PLASTIC TANKS	STAINLESS STEEL
Chemicals used in making the tanks like Bisphenol A (BPA) and dioxins will mix with water and will cause health problems including cancer.	Made up of SS 304 food grade stainless steel, so no health problems
At strong heat, chemicals start to melt down & mix with water.	Equipped with insulated mirror finish which reflects heat therefore no heating
Plastic tanks commonly be used to store certain liquids	A steel tank can be used to store most types of liquids
Water stored will get affected by Bacteria, Fungus & other micro organisms.	SS 304 grade SS tank used. So not affected by Bacteria , Fungus etc.
Regular cleaning is required	Less maintenance and eco friendly
Lesser life span compared to SS	Longer life than plastic tanks
Large size tanks cannot be manufactured	Large sizes can be made
Plastic tanks are normally not food grade	SS 304 stainless steel tank is of food Grade quality.
